

BRANDYWINE - ELEUTHERIAN MILLS - CHARCOAL HOUSES

E. J. Roberts to [unclear] on the [unclear]

Lower Coal House, upper [unclear];
(where work was carried) [unclear] [unclear]
into charcoal

John H. Macklem
August 14, 1936

There was another Charming House on the [unclear], known as the Upper Coal House and about 1888-1889 a third Coal House was built in the field to the right of the path leading to Montcharmin Station, known as the "Wilderness"

John H. Macklem
August 14, 1936